ANNEXES

GUIDELINES IN ESTABLISHING GAD DATABASE AND GATHERING OF SEX-DISAGGREGATED DATA

- SEX-DISAGGREGATED DATA

  Any data on individuals broken down by sex. Gender statistics rely on these sex-disaggregated data and reflect the realities of the lives of women and men and policy issues relating to gender.

  Data collected and tabulated separately for women and men. They allow for the measurement of differences between women and men on various social and economic dimensions and are one of the requirements in obtaining gender statistics. However, gender statistics are more than data disaggregated by sex. Having data by sex does not guarantee, for example, that concepts, definitions and methods used in data production are conceived to reflect gender roles, relations and inequalities in society.

PCW-DBM-DILG-NEDA JOINT MEMORANDUM CIRCULAR 2013-01

- One of the Institutional Mechanisms to Implement the Magna Carta of Women (MCW) is the ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF GAD DATABASE

  1) LGUs, through their Local Planning and Development Offices (LPDO), shall spearhead the setting up and maintenance of the GAD database to serve as basis for gender-responsive planning, programming and policy formulation. The GAD database, which can either be manually operated or developed through software, shall form part of the overall management information system (MIS) of the LGU.

  2) Sex-disaggregated data and GAD-related information may be derived and/or sourced from the local National Statistics Office (NSO), academe, CSOs as well as from studies, surveys and administrative reports of the local offices of NGAs such as, but not limited to the following: the Department of Agriculture (DA), Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR), Department of Agrarian Reform (DAR), Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), Department of Trade and Industry (DTI).

  The sex-disaggregated data and results of the Community-Based Monitoring System (CBMS), the National Household Targeting System for Poverty Reduction (NHTS-PR) and Local Governance Performance Management System (LGPMS) may form part of the GAD database.

- DATA REQUIREMENTS FOR THE LGU GAD DATABASE

  Section 37 of the MCW-IRR mandates all LGUs to develop and maintain LGU GAD Database as source of information for gender-responsive planning, programming and policy formulation. On the Other hand, the DILG's Guide to Ecological Profiling encourages national government agencies operating in the LGU to "provide guide/tools in developing indicators specific to various development/sectoral issues and concerns", which in this case, refers to gender issues and concerns.

  To set up the GAD Database, the LGU may utilize its existing database, planning and data-gathering tools and management information systems to generate gender statistics, age and sex-disaggregated data and other GAD-related information from primary and secondary sources of data such as surveys, studies, focus group discussion (FGD) results, progress reports, monitoring and evaluation results and ODA reports[1].

The LGU GFPS and the DILG Operations Field Officer assigned to the LGU shall assist the Local Planning Development Office (LPDO) in the generation and processing of sex-disaggregated data and GAD-related information. Other data-producing LGU departments and national Government agencies operating at the local level with regional and/or local presence shall be tapped by the LPDO to provide sex-disaggregated information to complement the GAD database.

Provinces, cities and municipalities shall build their capacities on the establishment and maintenance of their respective GAD Database, to enable them to assist, coach or mentor the barangays within their jurisdiction. Barangays shall make use of existing data-gathering tools, forms and methodologies for the collection of sex-disaggregated barangay data. The same shall feed into the city and municipality GAD databases for processing, consolidation and analysis. Likewise, information from GAD databases of cities and municipalities shall be consolidated and fed into the GAD databases of provinces.

- PURPOSE OF THE LGU GAD DATABASE

As gender statistics and GAD-related information are crucial for evidenced-based planning and policymaking, the LGU GAD Database shall serve the following purposes:

1. To aid in gender analysis of the LGU situation by surfacing gender gaps and/or differences among women and men in terms of their access to basic services and facilities, control of resources and enjoyment of rights, privileges, benefits and rewards.
2. To inform the LGU on the extent of implementation and/or attainment of gender equality and women's empowerment goals and outcomes.
3. To provide baseline data on the status of women and men in the LGU as provided for in Section 41 of the MCW-IRR. The process of coming up with the baseline report shall be guided by this JMC and/or determined by concerned oversight agencies.

The LGU GAD Database contains minimum GAD indicators matched with the biophysical, socioeconomic, cultural and built environment components of the LGU Ecological Profile (EP)[2] (Refer to the Tables below).

The GAD indicators are derived from the sectoral and gender mainstreaming provisions of the MCW-IRR, the Core GAD indicators and the Gender-responsive LGU Ka Ba (GeRL Ka Ba) Self-Assessment. On the other hand, demographic and social development indicators are drawn from CBMS, LGPMS and data producing agencies such as NSO, NSCB, DSWD and DepEd.

LGUs are encouraged to exhaust all available resources for the collection and processing of data requirements of the GAD Database. The absence of certain data requirements should not prevent them from developing their GAD Database

MEMORANDUM

TO	:	ALL PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT HEADS AND CHIEF OF OFFICES
DATE	:	01 FEBRUARY 2023
SUBJECT	:	MAINTENANCE OF GENDER AND DEVELOPMENT (GAD) DATABASE

The Philippine Commission on Women defined Gender and Development as the development perspective and process that is participatory and empowering, equitable, sustainable, free from violence, respectful of human rights, supportive of self-determination and actualization of human potentials.

GAD employs gender analysis to unveil mechanisms in which men and women can work together, presenting results in neutral terms of economics and competence.

As mandated by Republic Act 9710 otherwise known as "Magna Carta of Women" all Local Government Units (LGUs) are required to develop and maintain GAD Database as source of information for gender-responsive planning, programming and policy formulation.

Relevant thereto, all Provincial Departments and Offices are hereby required to generate timely accurate and sex-disaggregated data and statistics that will form part of the Provincial GAD Database which in turn shall serve as basis in the formulation of the Annual GAD Plan and Budget (GPBs.)

The Provincial Planning and Development Office (PPDO) shall spearhead the administration of the GAD Database and is expected to device measures to ensure the efficiency and effectiveness of the said database.

All generated data and statistics shall be submitted to PPDO for data banking.

For Compliance.

WILFREDO D. RACELIS
Provincial Administrator

A reasonable amount from the official development assistance received from foreign governments and multilateral agencies and organizations shall be set aside to support programs and activities for women in accordance with the provisions of RA 7192, otherwise known as the Women in Development and Nation Building Act, by the Local Government of the Province of Batangas provided that it shall conform with the requirement and conditions set forth by the funding agencies.

2. The local government of the Province of Batangas shall ensure that women benefit equally and participate directly in the government programs and projects of said agencies specifically those funded under foreign development assistance to ensure in the development process pursuant to RA 7192.

3. All government project proposals shall ascertain the inclusion of gender responsive indicators and guidelines focusing on roots of women's oppression, pursuant to the United Nations Declarations of which the Philippine Government is a signatory.

4. All local governments departments and agencies in the Province of Batangas shall review and revise all their regulations, circulars, issuances and procedures to remove gender biases herein and shall complete the same within two years.

5. The Provincial Committee on Gender and Development (PCGAD) of the Province of Batangas shall be actively consulted in matters dealing with official development assistance or foreign aid so as to determine gender biases and implications on women.

6. Mainstream gender and development in their respective plans, programs, projects, services and activities in order to address gender issues.

7. Integrate gender in planning processes and plans through the conduct of gender analysis using sex-disaggregated data, including gender in project management and design, and ensuring women's participation in the processes, such as through consultations.

8. Utilize their GAD budget for gender mainstreaming undertakings.

9. Eliminate gender biases in all their policies, systems and procedures, and maintain these to be non-discriminatory and non-sexist.

Section 3. RELATED PRINCIPLES. To facilitate the development of the full potentials of women, the following rights defined and declared under the United Nations Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) are hereby declared under this ordinance.

3.1 Women have the right to the prevention of, and protection from all forms of violence and coercion against their person, their freedom, their sexuality, and their individuality;

3.2 Women have the right to freely and duly participate, individually or collectively in the political processes of their communities and nation;

3.3 Women have the right to the means for assuring their economic welfare and security;

3.4 Women have the right to the necessary knowledge and means for the full exercise of their reproductive choice with the constitution and their beliefs and preferences;

3.5 Women have the right to choose a spouse in accordance with their values and preferences, maintain equality in marriage or its dissolution, and receive adequate support for rearing and caring of their children;

3.6 Women have the right to an adequate, relevant and gender-fair education throughout their lives, from childhood to adulthood;

3.7 Women have the right to adequate nutrition, proper health care and humane living conditions;

3.8 Women have the right to nurture their personhood, collectively and individually, to secure an image of themselves as whole and valuable beings, to build relationships based on respect, trust and mutuality;

3.9 Women have the right to equality before the law, in principle and in practice. However, it is unfortunate that as of the moment a macho image of our society still exists as it continues to view women as the "weaker sex", men are traditionally the heads of the households and of most organizations. Aside from ramp modeling and beauty contests, women today do not share the power and prestige, status and societal positions as men. They rather play supportive roles to men and tend to live to the idea that major decisions are made prerogatives. Oftentimes, women are exploited in media, commercials, impressing upon the public that without their attractive and pleasing features, products would be less appealing. But in reality, women should not be viewed as second class to men but as partners of men in development.

In the light of these historical gender biases, inequalities and inequities, this piece of local legislation will provide the Provincial Government a policy direction to formulate programs and strategies, among others, that will:

1. Mainstream gender concerns in sectoral development plans, policies and program.
2. Intensify awareness campaign on gender issues and concerns.
3. Strengthen GO-PO-NGO partnership to maximize the effectiveness of programs and services addressing Gender and Development (GAD) concerns.
4. Encourage, support and expand the participation of grassroots women in the planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of development programs and projects.
5. Recommend appropriate academic curricula that are gender-sensitive.
6. Provide gender-responsive relief and rehabilitation programs with special focus on women and children's needs.
7. Involve men in family planning programs, health and child care and nutrition concerns and engage them in projects that enhance the well-being of the family.
8. Set-up crisis intervention centers and shelters in the Province of Batangas for survivors of violence against women and children and other social conflicts.
9. Promote gender sensitivity in local media and advertising agencies.
10. Increase the members of women in decision and policy making posts in the locality through implementation of capability building programs.

Section 4. DEFINITION OF TERMS. The following terms or phrases used in this Code shall mean as follows :

1. Battering – a series of physical, emotional and psychological abuse. It is repeated and habitual cyclic patterns as means of intimidation and imposition of the batterer's will and control over the survivor's life. It constitutes the following kind of behavior but is not limited to:

   a. Sexual battering – this includes physical attacks on the woman's breast, genital or forced sexual activity;

   b. Psychological battering – this includes threats of suicide, violence against women or her family, punching holes in the walls, threatening to take the children away, threatening deportation of wives with foreign citizenship, threatening to kidnap children or take them to a country and forcing the victim to do degrading things. It may also include controlling the victim's lawful or usual activities, the use of foul words or statements and threats or abandonment and expulsion such as forcing the wife to leave the conjugal dwelling. This provision shall likewise apply to common law relations but does not include adulterous ones as contemplated in the Revised Penal Code.

c. Economic battering – this includes deprivation of women of economic resources, their generation and mobilization so as to create dependency and submissiveness to men and to any established structures of domination.

It encourages the equal contributions of women and men in all aspect/sectors of development. Such a perspective involves the process of searching of new and innovative initiatives which help transform unequal gender relations into opportunities which equally/equitably both men and women. It recognizes that the unequal relation between women and men is a major deterrent to social and economics progress. It acknowledges that the difficulties encountered by women have to be addressed to ensure their effective participation in development. It envisions a future society where women and men equally contribute to and benefit from development.

14. Gender Equality – is the role required by or expected of women and men as prescribed by society. As a key to development, gender equality means the equal empowerment and participation of women, men and other subgroups of society, i.e. homosexuals, in all spheres of public and private life.

15. Gender Mainstreaming – refers to the strategy of integrating gender and development concerns and issues at all levels.

16. Gender Perspective – way of viewing issues and problems that take into consideration the different realities of women's and men's lives and recognizing that there is an unequal relationship between the two.

17. Gender Planning – means taking account of gender issues in planning. In development planning, it means that gender issues are recognized in the identification of problems and addressed in development objectives.

18. Gender sensitive/responsive – having an understanding of the marginalized position of women and consciously challenging the attitudes and behavior that reinforce women's subordinate status.

19. Gender sensitization – is an experimental and critical process of learning and unlearning of an individual female or male of the causes and effects of the culturally determined roles of women and men.

20. Gender sensitivity training – means providing people with formal learning experience in order to increase their awareness. The overall purpose of the training is to provide the knowledge and skills necessary to recognize and address gender issues in the programming process. At the center of the learning process is the conscientization, involving the ability to recognize the underlying issues of gender equality which form a pervasive obstacle to program progress.

21. Indecent shows – are shows which include nude or other provocative gestures which further project and exhibit men and women as sex-objects.

Conclusion:

Violence Against Women and their Children (VAWC) appears as one of the country's pervasive social problems. For the year 2021, the majority of the instances are rape and it was shown on the given data. Many cases of adolescent maltreatment have been discovered between the ages of 13 and 15.It is also noteworthy that District V which is Batangas City has the largest number of incidences of violence against women and children where the perpetrators are known to them and most of the time, it's a trusted adult who conducted the abused such as neighbor, father and uncle. The Philippine National Police and the National Bureau of Investigation are the common agencies in charge of solving these crimes in this sensitive topic. Despite the fact that there are rules and policies in place, the number of incidents, particularly in District V, continues to rise. Despite the efforts of Local Government Units (LGUs) led by City Social Welfare and Development Office through advocacy campaign and capacity building still violence against women and children has not been eliminated. The following VAWC events from District V were documented in various years: 222 in 2018, 209 in 2019, and 111 in 2020. The situation became aggravated when COVID-19 pandemic hit the Philippines last March 2020 wherein women and children are more exposed on family violence.The continuous increase of cases is possibly due to the lack of knowledge and involvement of locale authorities. According to Galacio (2006), in the CALABARZON region, barangay officials and police officers appear to be unfamiliar with the requirements of Republic Act 9262 of 2004 (Anti-Violence Against Women and Their Children Act). The law states unequivocally that in order to end violence against women and children, the aforementioned government entities must be deeply engaged. Establishing sort of intervention for the local government unit, such as the barangay, is one of the important contents of the RA 9262, as stated by the Women's Commission Collaboration to End Violence Against Women. Furthermore, because of feeling ashamed and experiencing lack of finances, poor women do not complain or seek assistance from government officials or the police.This was supported by a 2014 study conducted by the legal management department of San Beda College in which a surveyed total of 15.71 percent women responded of not reporting the violence or abused made to them because of a variety of factors such as embarrassment and blaming themselves for the violence, fear of retaliation from the abusers, and lack of availability to facilities where cases of abuse can be reported, among others. In addition, the victims have little understanding of the government's services (WWTSVAW, 2009). This can be correlated to their ages because they are too young to understand the law or they did not gain a formal education to fully absorb and interpret the gist of the act.

Furthermore, several government mechanisms have already put in place to address VAWC. Non-government organizations also take part in this crusade. The Batangas Medical Center-Women and Child Protection Unit also did their part to lessen the cases of abused through various of activities such as coordination with different agencies for referral and other services, information dissemination and trainings. It is uncertain when this trend will totally diminish in the Philippine setting, but as long as current efforts to fight VAWC are sustained, hope could be set high.
